Speakers: Sophia A. Edwards

Description: Communication is often a significant challenge for most organizations and becomes even more important during times of change. Clear, timely and empathetic communication creates an environment where team members more readily accept change. This presentation will provide leaders with insight into tackling this issue successfully.

Objectives:

- Understand the importance of communication during times of change
- Understand the change curve and how to support team members through the transition
- Learn how to communicate effectively and how to avoid miscommunication

Continuing Education Credits: South Central Association of Blood Banks is approved as a provider of continuing education programs in the clinical laboratory sciences by the ASCLS P.A.C.E. ® Program.
