J. Wade Atkins, MS, BS, MT (ASCP) SBB, CQA (ASQ), Supervisor of Quality Assurance and Regulatory Affairs in the Department of Transfusion Medicine, Clinical Center at NIH will present, You Too Can Be A Superhero: Internal Audits to the Rescue on Wednesday, November 11th via SCABBinar, a webinar based online event. Wade will discuss both external and internal audits and ways to ensure successful future assessments.

Description: An engaging review of commonly cited non-conformance issues during external blood bank or transfusion service assessments. In addition, ideas for how to perform meaningful internal audits that identify potential issues and ways to implement sustainable corrective and preventive actions from either internal or external reviews will be shared.

Objectives:

- ▶ Describe systems and associated findings commonly cited during external assessments
- ▶ Identify activities that blood bankers can perform during INTERNAL audits to identify areas of noncompliance.
- ▶ Develop processes to manage findings, resolve problems, and ensure successful assessments
